RATIONALE

Every day a student attends school has a positive impact on their future prospects and their development as an individual. A focus on increasing student attendance through support and intervention with the student and their families creates a culture of success within the school community.

Research from around the world has demonstrated a clear link between improved literacy and numeracy outcomes and attendance at school. Family engagement with the student and the school around attendance and achievement has also been shown to be critical; when families understand the relevance of attendance they work more closely and effectively with the school.

OBJECTIVES

To define the process, Modbury High School will ensure that student attendance is maintained and supported. It will define the roles of home group teachers, Year Level Managers, Counsellors, Senior Leaders and SSOs.

This policy is written to support the Department for Education's key actions on attendance:

- promote the importance of education from the earliest years of life and throughout the schooling years;
- actively engage children, young people and their families in education and development opportunities; and
- address barriers to attendance, learning and wellbeing to support children and young people be physically present and engaged in their learning.

Students with attendance issues are split into three categories of risk, low, medium and high depending on the nature of the absence and other risk factors. A student with habitual non-attendance is one who has 5 or more absences, for any reason, in a term. A chronic non-attender is one who is absent for 10 days or more per term for any reason. For each risk category the Department for Education has recommended actions:

Low risk – habitual and chronic non-attenders, for all explained absences.

- Parents made aware of concerns.
- Early identification of any supports required.
- Welcoming schools environment.

Medium risk – habitual and chronic non-attenders, unexplained absences.

- Data is monitored and patterns identified.
- Barriers to attendance determined and addressed.
- Parent involvement.
- Educational needs identified.
- Referral to support services considered.

High risk – chronic non-attenders, explained or unexplained, with additional risk factors.

- Case management/team-around-the-child approach.
- Individualised and intensive support provided.
- Coordinated interagency collaboration.
- Statutory options assessed.

As well as a policy on attendance the school should aim to inspire, engage and empower the students to take control of their wellbeing through the provision of quality teaching and learning, a positive school culture and strong relationships with open communication with the students and their families.

Dear <<parent name>>

One of Modbury High School's continuing priorities is to address issues of attendance amongst students. Our records show that <<student name>> has been absent for <<number>> days this year. If this is due to unavoidable reasons, including illness or a family holiday which cannot be taken at any other time of year and you have already notified the school you do not need to take further action. If there are unexplained absences please contact the school to provide a reason, supported by written confirmation of the reason.

However, irrespective of the cause, research shows that students who are absent for more than 10 days per year are disadvantaged both educationally and socially. Your child is at risk of falling into this category and you should be aware that continued absence will have a detrimental effect on their education. Some of these effects may include:

- Gaps in knowledge and understanding, resulting in missing basic concepts.
- Lack of community and familiarity resulting in them feeling less secure within the school environment.
- Missing out on learning important basics such as class rules and behaviour norms.
- The loss of opportunities for socializing with others, which improves social/emotional and cognitive development.
- Inability to maintain friendships resulting in isolation, bullying or teasing.
- Loss of self-esteem and self-confidence.
- Belief that punctuality and attendance are unimportant.
- Increased likelihood of leaving school early.

We ask you consider the reasons for your child's absences and assist us to improve their attendance. Should you be having problems in getting your child to attend school, please call me and make a time to talk, as we can possibly help you or bring in support services that can assist with such problems.

Yours sincerely,

Dear <<parent name>>

It has come to our attention that <<student name>> has been absent for <<number>> days so far this year.

Research has shown that ongoing absence from school can have quite serious effects on a child's education. Some of the effects of poor attendance may include:

- Gaps in knowledge and understanding, resulting in missing basic concepts.
- Lack of community and familiarity resulting in them feeling less secure within the school environment.
- Missing out on learning important basics such as class rules and behaviour norms.
- The loss of opportunities for socializing with others, which improves social/emotional and cognitive development.
- Inability to maintain friendships resulting in isolation, bullying or teasing.
- Loss of self-esteem and self-confidence.
- Belief that punctuality and attendance are unimportant.
- Increased likelihood of leaving school early.

The South Australian Education laws clearly state that the absence of a student from school is the responsibility of their parents or guardian. Under the current Education Act: "whereas child fails to attend school as required, each parent or guardian of the child shall be guilty of an offence and liable to penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars'. Any reason given for absences to the school maybe investigated, and a medical certificate must be produced if so required.

Please note that further absences may result in a referral to the North Eastern District Attendance Officer. Please contact either myself or one of our Student Counsellors to arrange a time for you to come in and develop an Attendance Improvement Plan for <<name>>.

Yours sincerely,
